

SHAI WILSON

m : 206.850.2478 / e : sjwilson2@dons.usfca.edu

EXPERIENCE

Justa

Software Development Intern

2015Tokyo, Japan

Experience rapidly prototyping new features. Working collaboratively with a small internal team and a large, vocal and active user community; demonstrating independence, creativity, initiative and technological savvy, in addition to . Strong understanding of OOP design principles producing well-structured and adaptable code, ruthlessly prioritizing, and passion for keeping up with new technologies and industry trends.

University of San Francisco

Full Stack Developer

2015San Francisco, CA

Responsible for designing, maintaining, and programming a special USFCA Gleeson Library exhibition website titled "Centennial Celebration of the 1915 Panama Pacific Exhibition." Managed front-end programming while working directly with Art History undergraduate curators and the USFCA web services team to improve usability, design, and to build a lasting online identity.

Galerie RX

Visual Design Intern

2014Paris, France

Joined a team of gallerists and artists within Galerie RX to design, prototype, restructure brand identity and improve cohesion of their print and online identity. Worked as both a designer and consultant on a variety of client and internal projects.

EDUCATION

University of San Francisco

Design, B.S | Computer Science minor

Expected Graduation: Fall 2015

Boston University

Study Abroad, Paris, France Summer 2014

Temple University

Study Abroad, Tokyo, Japan Summer 2015

SKILLS

- Design

Photoshop

Illustrator

InDesign

Processing JS

Premiere Pro

After Effects
- Engineering

SaaS

MySQL

Java

Ruby

Ruby on Rails

Android Mobile

Git